SOMETHING NEW.

NEW CLARION RANGE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

With Glass Oven Door.

We are now manufacturing this splendid and justly popular Cooking Range with a plate of thick French plate glass, 8 by 14 inches, inserted into the oven door. This improvement is valuable and can be best appreciated by housekeepers. All articles can be seen while in process of cooking or roasting, without opening the oven door, thereby preventing all odors from escaping, and all kinds of pastry and cake from falling, and insuring a perfect success in roasting meat and poultry. The glass is the best French plate and is capable of withstanding intense heat, while no smoke or steam can obstruct the view from the oven. The glass is in a frame which is attached inside of the door, and can be removed without danger of breaking, or replaced with a Cast Iron Panel and Nickle Name Plate, which is furnished with each Range with Glass Door. Many thousands of these ranges are in use. It is the smoothest, best made and most economical and durable Range ever sold in any State. Please call and examine it before purchasing.

A CARD.

I take this opportunity to say to my good friends and customers and the rest of mankind, that after going all round Robin Hood's barn, I cannot find a better place for the Fish business, or kinder friends than in Norombega Market, at the old Stall I occupied for twenty-two years, and for the last six months by CHAS. H. BUSWELL. By strict attention to business and honest and upright dealing with all, I hope to have the good will, and sincerely desire the patronage of all who want good fresh Fish in their season. THE RED MASK.

A Mocking Demon Stalking Abroad. All Danger from it averted by a Skillful Physician.

There are for many reasons, few diseases more to be dreaded than Erysipelas, and it has, not inaptly, been termed "St. Anthony's Fire." There is no disease which so completely deforms and disfigures the visage of the patient; and it may fairly be compared to a red mask thrown by a mocking demon over the human face. It is almost as dangerous as it is repulsive. Arising from a variety of causes, running its course with pain—it often ends suddenly in death. The old treatment consisted of blood letting and the use of strong drastic purgatives. The substance of the enlightened modern treatment is all contained in Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." Use this, and you have taken the essential total of all the best physicians in the land could prescribe for Erysipelas. A case in point. Mr. S. B. Carpenter, of Grandville, N. Y., writes that he had for some time been afflicted with this disease in both legs, and has regained his health by the sole use of "Favorite Remedy." Other cases might be cited did space permit. "Favorite Remedy" ... in its action in all other diseases ... your druggist for it, or address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

PLANETARY LIFE.

OPINION OF AN EMINENT GEOLOGIST ON THE QUESTION.

The solutions of two interesting problems as found by Dr. Hahn in his researches are given in a recent number of the London Telegraph. These questions are: First, whether or not celestial bodies other than the earth, belonging to our solar system, are inhabited by animate beings, and secondly, whether the meteoric stones from time to time cast upon the surface of this globe emanate from incandescent comets or from volcanic planets? That they at no time formed a part of the earth itself has been conclusively demonstrated. Dr. Hahn has recently completed a series of investigations upon some of the huge meteoric stones that fell from the skies in Hungary during the summer of 1860. Thin laminae of these mysterious bodies, subjected to an examination under a powerful microscope, have been found to contain coralline and spongeous formations, and to reveal unmistakable traces of the lower forms of vegetation. All the organisms, animal and vegetable, discovered by Dr. Hahn in the delicate stone shavings he has thus dealt with, indicate the condition of their parent world to be one of what is technically termed "primary formation." But the presence of water in that world is proved by the fact that the tiny petrified creatures revealed by the magic of the lens, one and all belong to the sub-aqueous classes of animals. They could not have existed in comets, at least if the assumption be correct that these are in a state of active combustion.

VOLTAIRE'S LIBRARY AND OTHERS.

It is astonishing how many libraries have been plundered. Picture galleries have not suffered more in this respect. The troops of Napoleon occupied no capital from which they did not carry away art treasures of some kind; and invading armies have frequently marched off with wagon-loads of books. In ancient, and, indeed, in comparatively modern times, up to, at least, the end of the last century, books, and indeed everything else, seemed to have been looked upon as lawful prize of war. Mark Antony, in the course of his campaigns, seized a library and presented it to one who was, at all events, capable of appreciating the gift. As much may be said of that northern Cleopatra—"Semiramis of the North" was the name given to her by Voltaire—the Empress, Catherine II., to whom the humorous but ferocious Souvaroff bore, as one of the most acceptable of trophies, the contents of the Zaluski Library at Warsaw. The Hermitage at St. Petersburg contains, besides the library carried off by Souvaroff from Poland, two highly interesting and valuable collections of books, acquired legitimately and in the most liberal spirit by that same Catherine II., who had accepted the literary treasures of which Warsaw had been despoiled. When the Empress Catherine desired at the same time to enrich Diderot and to attach him to her person, she gave him a large sum for his library, and, inviting him to St. Petersburg, appointed him custodian of his own books. Voltaire's library she seems to have acquired partly on account of its intrinsic value, though principally, no doubt, with the view of having in her possession the very books which Voltaire had got together, and which in many instances he had annotated. In one respect she rendered the writer, whom she much admired a doubtful service; for when, not many years after the removal of Voltaire's library to St. Petersburg, Count Joseph de Maistre arrived at the Russian Court as Minister of Sardinia, he made a careful study of the volumes which the man whose genius fascinated him, but whose opinions filled him with horror, had been in the habit of consulting, and came to the conclusion that Voltaire was indifferent about his books, reading the good with the bad, the authentic with the unauthentic, editions of value and editions so inaccurate as to be practically worthless.—London Standard.

A RICH MAN'S WILL.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE BEQUESTS OF THE LATE HON. E. J. M. HALE, OF MASSACHUSETTS.

HAVERHILL, June 25. The will of the late Hon. E. J. M. Hale has been admitted to probate and its provisions made known. It being the largest estate ever disposed of in this vicinity, considerable interest is manifested in the manner of its distribution. The principal gifts and bequests are as follows: Haverhill Public Library, $100,000; City Hospital, $50,000; Mrs. Ruth C. Hale, wife of the deceased, all his personal property at the homestead on Main street, together with the use of the estate during her life, and $10,000; to his sons, respectively: Harry H. Hale, $100,000; Samuel C. Hale, $20,000; Edward Hale, $50,000; to his grandsons, E. J. M. Hale and Benjamin P. Hale, each $25,000; his granddaughters, Lucy L. Howe and Mabel G. Howe, each $25,000; to the children of G. K. Hale, $10,000; to American Bible Society, $20,000; Home Missionary Society, $5,000; Haverhill Benevolent Society, $5,000; Groveland Episcopal Society, the church, parsonage, and $10,000. Life annuities—To his mother, Hannah O. Hale, $800; to his wife, Mrs. Ruth C. Hale, $12,000; his sons, respectively, Harry H. Hale, $4,200; Samuel C. Hale, $3,500; Edward Hale, $3,500; and to Jeannette D. Hale, widow of James Frank Hale, $3,600; To George K. Hale, $600; Susan C. Ball, $300; Elizabeth Hale, $300; Mary A. Hale, $300; Adaline and Priscilla Parker, each $200; Phebe Hale, $200. Temporary annuities—To his grand-children, E. J. M. Hale, Benjamin P. Hale, Lucy L. Howe, Mabel G. Howe, each $1,000 annually until twenty-one years of age, and after that $1,500. To the South Groveland Mill Library, $200, and to the St. James, Episcopal Church, $1,000 annually. These annuities are to be paid until the death of all the recipients of life annuities, when the estate is to be distributed among the grand-children and their descendants. The bequests and annuities amount to about $525,000. The estate is variously estimated at from $5,000,000 to $9,000,000. Whatever it may prove to be above the bequests and annuities, will remain to accumulate many years, becoming much increased before the final distribution. The mills and all the mill property at South Groveland will be sold within one year. The salary of John L. Hobson, the managing Trustee, is fixed at $4,000 per annum. Mrs. Hale is Executrix and Trustee under the will, and the other associate Trustees with Mr. Hobson are Harry H. Hale and Elbridge G. Wood.—Boston Herald.

Franklin.

The work upon the meeting-house, at Berry's Mills, Carthage, is progressing finely now. They commenced plastering, June 13th, and one of the workmen, Will Brackett, of Dixfield, met with quite an accident as he was returning home from work, about seven o'clock, P. M. As he entered upon the Newman bridge, in Carthage, his horse became somewhat alarmed at the shaking of the bridge, and jumped off with the gig, on the upper side, into the river, a distance of seventeen feet, and went down river under the bridge and up a steep bank into a field of Mr. Daniel Lowe, without help from any one. Mr. B. jumped from the gig and landed on the upper side of the bridge, as nearly as he could without falling into the river. The railing was off that side of the bridge where the horse went over, in consequence of some temporary repairs. The horse was not much injured, but the gig was pretty well smashed up. Mr. B. went back again the next day to work upon the house and worked two or three days, then complained of lameness in one wrist, had suspended labor on account of fracture of the bones of the wrist. The north abutment of the bridge is to be entirely renovated, and F. W. Brown, of Carthage, has undertaken the job for $100, and if he can get the covering, it is hoped the job will be finished by the Fourth of July.

FRIDAY JULY 1 1881

THE NEW YORK DEAD-LOCK

We do not wonder that the peole of New York have become impatient of the mon ot-onous and i effective ballot ng for U S Senators and the Republicans of that state have a right to hold to a str ct re sponsibility the Republican members who prevent the choice of two Republican Senators while there is an ample party majority in the Legislature Senators Conkl ng and Platt have long since shown, not only the hypocrisy of the pretentious letter of resignation but also the r no regard for the interests of the party can be expected from them and they seem to have inspired a l ttle body of the r supporters with all the stubbornness of their own le or r dn policy

It is a great shame that two capable Republican Senators in full sympathy with the National Administration have not already been elected, but instead of that we are now hearing talk of adjournment w th accomplishing that result Before this step is consented to it seems to us that the Administration members of the Legislature owe it to themselves and to the party to make such a combined effort for election as shall put the odium of failure directly upon the Conkling Platt minority, and this they can only do by surrendering their own differences, so as to unite the whole Administration strength upon single candidates for the long and short terms

On Wednesday with a total vote of 150 of which 50 Democratic votes were given to Potter and Kernan Conkling had but 31 while Wheeler received 41 and there were scattering For the long term Platt had 25 Depew 60 and there were 10 scattering If the scattering votes had been given to Wheeler and Depew they would have received 66 and 60 respectively As 76 would have sufficed to elect it would put the Conkling half members in a very tight place to refuse to furnish the 7 to 10 votes required to give their party two United States Senators

We want to see the entire Administration vote of the New York Legislature combined upon some two good men and when that is done the whole country as well as the State will see just where the responsibility rests Until such a united front is shown the anti Conkling Republicans will not have done their full duty, and when this is done we do not believe any power can hold the present supporters of Conkling to the deliberate sacrifice of the party from which they hope for future favors Let them be put squarely to the test

OUR FOREIGN TRADE

The report of the Bureau of Statistics for the month of May shows no very marked change from the condition of the foreign trade which has prevailed for some months There is still a very heavy balance in favor of this country the exports keeping very nearly up to the large figures reached in May last year while the falling off in imports is quite considerable amounting to $1 400 000 as compared with a decline of only $1 500 000 in exports For the eleven months ending May 31st the imports of merchandise were less by $3 000 000 than for the same period of the preceding year, while the exports show an increase of $75 500 000 The exports of merchandise for the last eleven months amount to $838 900 000 while the imports for the same period amount to only $630 700 000, showing an excess amounting to $207 000 000 compared with a like excess of $1 000 000 for the preceding year—a relative gain of about $100 000 000 over the former period The net import of specie for the eleven months was $6 000 000 compared with $75 00 000 for the same period in 1879 80 The total balance in favor on the foreign trade of the two years exceeds $400 000 000 This is a remarkable exhibit of national prosperity

THE SECOND DISTRICT

FITZ-RELIGION C W WAKEFIELD ESQ

To the Republicans of Sagadahoc County

You do but you are greatly disappointed in the result of the recent Republican district convention That our county had claims of sufficient merit to warrant a concession of the nomination to you cannot be denied or even doubted Had your delegation been united your claim would have been much stronger You will naturally enquire, who dared, to assume the responsibility of breaking the unity of our delegation and destroying all chance of success In answer to such inquiry I beg to say that having thirty two out of forty five delegates the friends of Col Spauld fully appreciating the situation and trusted thirteen votes with nine making forty two votes

The question of uniting the delegation rested wholly with G C Goss and his friends Whilst Capt Goss and friends deemed it highly honorable and expressed to the delegation a desire that they should be united which prompted the delegates favorable to himself to announce their willingness to unite then he coolly reminded them that he had not withdrawn thereby destroying all hopes of uniting the delegation and boldly accepted the full responsibility of forcing our delegation into the convention in fragments Not wishing to assume such a fearful responsibility I immediately urged my friends to unite upon some other gentleman from this country and go into the convention and respectfully demand his nomination Thus you will see upon whom rests the odium of defeating your wishes

To the Republicans of the county who gave such cordial support to myself, I return my heartfelt thanks and shall ever cherish their kindness with the liveliest satisfaction To the Republicans of Bath I can only say that the result of your caucus composed of the wealth character and intelligence of the city, was an endorsement that any man might well feel proud of

My labors in the past in behalf of the success of the party have not been more earnest and cordial than they will be in the future for our nominee Hon Nelson Dingley, Jr, is a gentleman of culture, of high character large legislative experience and well qualified to properly care for all of the varied interests of our district The people of this Congressional district in point of character and intelligence are second to none in the country, and I am well assured that they cannot be better represented than by Mr Dingley

J W WAKEFIELD

Carl Schurz says of Conkling and Platt, in the New York Evening Post, that "they "ask a re-election in order to get fresh "supplies of ammunition and a new stand "point for assault upon the administration "They want a club to maul the party with "This is what the people are determined they shall not have" This describes the present situation at Albany very accurately, and if the members of the Legislature would show their appreciation of it by speedily electing two other men in their places they would grow wonderfully in the estimation of the people of the country.

REV. REUEN THOMAS

A COUNCIL REFUSE TO ACCEPT HIS RESIGNATION OF THE PASTORATE OF THE HARVARD CHURCH, BROOKLINE, MASS

Many of our readers who have sat under the eloquent preaching of Rev Reuen Thomas will be interested in the following report by the Boston Journal

Rev Reuen Thomas pastor of the Harvard Church for six years past, having tendered his resignation in order to accept a call to Philadelphia a council was summoned to take action in the premises The churches (represented in nearly all cases by their pastors) were the Mt Vernon Central, Old South Park Street, Phillips, Shawmut and Union of Boston, the Central of Jamaica Plain, the First, Second and Eliot of Newton the First of Cambridge and the churches of Grantville and Watertown and Rev Dr Blagden was also present as a delegate at large

The council convened at 3 P M, and Rev J B Webb D D, of Boston was elected Moderator and Mr George H Worthley of Boston, Clerk The record of the church, society and congregation were read showing that each body had by a unanimous vote refused to accept Mr Thomas s resignation and Deacon H S Burdett representing the church and society, read an earnest protest against the severance of the pastoral relation contending that should the resignation be accepted the present harmony in the church would be dissipated the mission work would languish and the community would suffer almost immeasurably The protest contained numerous ardent expressions of love for Mr Thomas and stated unequivocally that the Harvard Church needed his continued ministrations more than any other church could need them Mr Thomas was then called on for a statement He replied at some length saying among other things, that heretofore his ministrations had always been in large cities When he left England he was under the impression that he was coming to a pulpit in Boston proper —to that city which was so generous that it had built a monument on a hill where it was defeated But Brookline was a small place and it had not increased much in population during the last six years The church had, indeed grown faster than the town Several churches in large cities begged him by deputations by letters and by telegrams to come to them On the 10th of April he publicly announced his most emphatic manner that he should remain in Brookline, but on the next day he received a letter which created an entirely different atmosphere about him His confidence in men became shaken the heaven of trust in his people became a hell of suspicion and his determination to leave Brookline became unalterably fixed Mr Thomas said that he left London against the advice of a council of his brethren, and he had always felt that the Lord would punish him for it in some way He had been doing too much work, and his health was impaired thereby In conclusion Mr Thomas mentioned by name several of the official members of the church saying that his relations with them had been uniformly pleasant Indeed he said, he had nothing but kind words for seven eighths of them

The Moderator then called for further expression from the church and one member of the council asked Mr Thomas for further particulars of the letter which he received April 11 But the pastor declined to say any more in public and no one else seemed desirous of speaking so the council retired for deliberation The secret session lasted, from 5 o clock until nearly 11 with a short intermission for supper Numerous witnesses were examined touching the dissatisfaction on which the letter alleged existed among the people and the whole matter was thoroughly discussed At length a report was made the council sustained the church in refusing to accept the pastor s resignation and advised him to withdraw it The disaffection reported to exist was found to be confined chiefly to the writer of the letter referred to and was pronounced without adequate foundation The large congregation, which was awaiting the verdict burst into hearty applause when the decision was announced, and Mr Thomas was warmly congratulated The council was largely influenced in coming to a decision by the facts that the Harvard Church people had been for five years prior to Mr Thomas's coming unable to agree upon a pastor and that since he has been pastor the church has been freed from debt and the society has grown to be very harmonious and active
